

WASHINGTON STATE
Geographic Name Application

WASHINGTON STATE DEPARTMENT OF Natural Resources

Proposed Name: Sq'emenen Bay
County: San Juan
Township: _____ Range: _____ Section(s): _____
Lat. 48.56038° N, Long. 122.94685° W (Begin)
Lat. _____ N, Long. _____ W (End)

- New Name
- Controversial Name
- Name Change
- Location Clarification
- Spelling Clarification

Description

Type of feature (lake, stream, etc.): Bay
Description of feature (location, length, depth, height, size and/or area covered): The bay is located on southcentral Shaw Island. It is bounded by South Beach County Park to the east, Upright Channel to the south, and Cedar Rock Preserve to the west.

If a stream, number of months it flows on a yearly basis: N/A

Is this feature identified by other names or spellings? Please list variant names: Squaw Bay

Has it ever been signed, posted, or publicized? If so, when? The bay is currently known as Squaw Bay.

History

Please provide a brief history of the feature and its immediate surroundings, this might include information on the following: 1 Native American; 2 First settlers; 3 Historical background pertinent to feature; 4 History on how the land is/was used; 5 Natural disasters (floods, fires, etc.) 6 Any significant cultural events. If appropriate, geology, flora and fauna. Cite sources. Use additional pages if needed.

Origin of name: see attached letter

If a commemorative name, provide a brief summary of the ENTIRE life of the person including how and the length of time he/she was associated with the proposed feature:

Justification of Proposed Name

What is the usage of feature? The bay is an important area for migratory and wintering waterfowl, herons, shorebirds, and marine life. The bay is also a reefnet fishing area!

Please state why the proposed name will best serve the public interest: Sq'iemenen is the Kummi name for Shaw Island. "Squaw" is widely viewed as a racially offensive, undescending term. It has historically been used in a way that implies Native American women are

How long has the proposed name been in use? By whom? second class citizens or exotic object.
Since the late 1800s, by post-treaty era settlers.

Please list all sources of information used for your research: (maps, books, articles, periodicals, etc. for background history relating to proposed name) see attached letter.

What type of support is there for the proposed name?

List all groups and persons who are familiar with the proposed feature and its usage. Please provide names, addresses, telephone numbers, email addresses and his/her association with knowledge of the geographic feature:

see attached letter.

Justification of Proposed Name

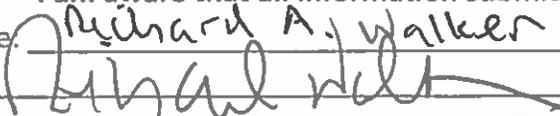

What is the usage of feature? _____

Please state why the proposed name will best serve the public interest: _____

How long has the proposed name been in use? By whom? _____

Please list all sources of information used for your research: (maps, books, articles, periodicals, etc. for background history relating to proposed name) _____

What type of support is there for the proposed name?
List all groups and persons who are familiar with the proposed feature and its usage. Please provide names, addresses, telephone numbers, email addresses and his/her association with knowledge of the geographic feature:

Application submitted by:
Name:	Richard A. Walker
Address:	PO Box 1974	City: Poulsbo	State: WA Zip: 98370
Phone #:	360-779-2903	Email: richardmobywalker@gmail.com	Date of Application: 8/25/16
I am aware that all information submitted is considered to be public information.
Printed Name:	Richard A. Walker
Signature:			Date: 8/25/16

Please mail completed form along with copies of any additional materials to:

WA State Board on Geographic Names
PO Box 47030
Olympia, WA 98504-7030

(Phone: 360-902-1280 - Fax: 360-902-1778 - Email: bogn@dnr.wa.gov)

AUG 25 2015

ENGINEERING DIVISION
OLYMPIA 09504-7030

Aug. 23, 2015

Washington State Committee on Geographic Names
P.O. Box 47030
Olympia, WA 98504-7030

Dear honorable committee members,

My name is Richard Walker, a former editor of The Journal of the San Juan Islands (1999-2011), a former nine-year member of the San Juan Historical Museum Board of Trustees (2001-10), and author of a local history book, "Roche Harbor."

I am a U.S. citizen of indigenous ancestry (Yaqui), and my wife, a retired middle school teacher, is a citizen of the Samish Indian Nation, one of the First Peoples of the San Juans.

I ask the committee to change the name of Squaw Bay, on Shaw Island in San Juan County, to Sq'emenen Bay.

While linguists still debate the etymology of the word "squaw," these are established facts:

The word is widely viewed as offensive. The word is a Colonial-era corruption of an Algonquian word. Over time, it came to be used in a demeaning way – as a term of condescension, as a racialized epithet, and in a way that implies Native American women are second-class citizens or exotic objects.

Chicago Sun-Times columnist Cecil Adams wrote in 2000, "... the protesters have a point when they say special terms for minority women are inherently demeaning. Think about it. Negress. Jewess. Sixty years ago these terms were in common use. Now they make your flesh creep. Next picture some pot-bellied slob in a cowboy hat: 'Why, if it ain't a injun and his squaw.'"

The word has no relevance in the San Juan Islands. In the article, "Squaw: Offensive or not?" (Jan. 31, 2014, Indian Country Today), Dr. Marge Bruchac, an Abenaki historical consultant, told reporter Vincent Schilling that "esqua," "squa" "skwa" are suffixes of larger words with significant meanings. She said traditional speakers "still say words like 'nidobaskwa' = a female friend, 'manigebeskwa' = woman of the woods ... When Abenaki people sing the Birth Song, they address 'nuncksquassis' = 'little woman baby'."

However, Ives Goddard, curator and senior linguist in the National Museum of Natural History's Department of Anthropology, also writes that the Mohawk word "ojiskwa" translates "politely" to "vagina."

A debate on the word's etymology and whether the word used by newcomers to the Pacific Northwest was derived from the Algonquian or Mohawk suffix is unnecessary here. It's clear this word has no relevance in the San Juan Islands. If it is being used as a reference to the indigenous women of the San Juan Islands, well, it proves the points made earlier in this letter about it being used in an offensive, derogatory and demeaning manner.

Sq'emenen is a historical place name. According to Lummi Nation hereditary chief Bill (Tsilixw) James, a respected teacher and culture-bearer, the Lummi name for Shaw Island is Sq'emenen. It is the name by which the First People of the San Juan Islands have always known the island, and it is the name by which they know it now.

A 2010 cultural survey by the Washington State Department of Fish and Wildlife (http://wdfw.wa.gov/licensing/sepa/2010/10013_cultural.pdf) states that the islands' First Peoples established place names indicating the foods found there. According to the report:

"Thus in the Lummi language Waldron Island was 'the place of deepwater fishing.' Patos was 'where the native oyster is found.' Sucia was 'mussels on the rocks.' Matia was Punnawhing, an edible bulb. Shaw was Somemana, an oily little fish."

Chief Tsilixw said he doesn't know where the name "Somemana" came from. It is possible that "Sq'emenen" came to be pronounced "Somemana" by newcomers to the islands.

There is precedence for the change. Other governments in the United States have changed place names that contain the word "squaw." Among them:

1999: the Montana Legislature created an advisory group to replace the word "squaw" in local place names and required any replacement of a sign to bear the new name.

2000: The Maine Indian Tribal-State Commission and the Maine Legislature collaborated to pass a law eliminating the words "squaw" and "squa" from all of the state's waterways, islands, and mountains. Some of those sites have been renamed with the word "moose"; others, in a nod to Wabanaki language-recovery efforts, are now being given new place-appropriate names in the Penobscot and Passamaquoddy languages.

2003: Squaw Peak in Phoenix, Arizona, was renamed Piestewa Peak to honor the Iraq War casualty Pfc. Lori Piestewa, the first Native American woman to die in combat for the U.S.

2006: Citizens of the Coeur d'Alene Tribe called for the removal of the word "squaw" from the names of 13 locations in Idaho.

2011: The California Office of Historic Preservation changed the name of a state historical landmark, "Squaw Rock," in the Russian River canyon, to "Frog Woman Rock," to honor and respect the cultural heritage of the Pomo peoples of the region.

2015: The Buffalo, New York, Common Council change the name of "Squaw Island" to "Unity Island," after being petitioned by citizens of the Seneca Nation of New York.

I am joined in this request by my wife, Molly Neely-Walker, a citizen of the Samish Indian Nation; and the Hon. Deborah Parker, Tulalip Tribes council member and great-great-great-granddaughter of She-Kla-Malt of WH'LEHL-kluh, the village site later known as the Pearl Little Estate, overlooking Speiden Channel.

My sources include:

San Juan Archipelago Biological Preserves, Cedar Rock Preserve description, University of Washington (Claudia E. Mills), <http://faculty.washington.edu/cemills/UWSanJuanPreserves.html>.

"Management Plan for the University of Washington's Cedar Park Reserve on Shaw Island, San Juan County, Washington," Oct. 28, 2008, Claudia E. Mills, <http://faculty.washington.edu/cemills/CedarRockManagementPlan.pdf>

"Mom's Marsh Conservation Easement," San Juan Preservation Trust, <http://sjpt.org/places-projects/preserves-easement/easements/moms-marsh-conservation-easement/>

"A special place in history," Sharron Wooten, The Journal of the San Juan Islands, <http://www.co.san-juan.wa.us/parks/pdfs/shawparkhistory-wootton.pdf>

"The Salmon Bank: An Ethnological Compilation," Jacilee Wray, National Park Service, March 21, 2003, http://www.nps.gov/parkhistory/online_books/sajh/salmon_bank.pdf

Lummi Chief Tsilixw James, personal correspondence, Aug. 5, 2015.

Supporters of this request include:

Jaadkaagwia Allen (Tsimshian), former Indian Child Welfare coordinator, Jamestown S'Klallam Tribe.

Sophie Bailey (Swinomish), member, Swinomish Tribe Senate.

Marilee Bittner-Fawcett (Tsimshian), former public information officer, South Puget Intertribal Planning Agency.

Gil Calac (Paiute), Vietnam War veterans advocate, Yakama.

Laurie Cepa (She-Kla-Malt descendant), real estate broker, Everett.

Leonard Dixon (Lummi), owner, Coast Salish Remediation Services.

Leslie Eastwood (Samish), general manager, Samish Indian Nation.

April James (Swinomish), shelter manager, Swinomish Tribe.

Cheryl Johnson (Lummi), Lummi Indian Business Council.

Donna Jones (Port Gamble S'Klallam), retired chemical dependency professional, Kingston.

Carrie Kaeding (Samish), career coach, Marysville.

Vernell Lane (Lummi), fundraising and strategic planning consultant, Lummi.

Laurie Mattson, former executive director, Port Gamble S'Klallam Tribe, Brinnon.

Deborah Parker, council member, Tulalip Tribes.

Patricia Paul (Inupiaq), lawyer and appellate court judge, Swinomish.

Mary Ann Peltier (Chippewa/Assiniboine Sioux), co-chairwoman, Urban Native Education Alliance, Seattle.

Frank Penter (Samish), retired U.S. Navy chief petty officer, Gold Bar.

Joseph Price (Port Gamble S'Klallam/Navajo), youth services specialist, Port Gamble S'Klallam Tribe.

Laura Price (Port Gamble S'Klallam), Healing of the Canoe program coordinator, Port Gamble S'Klallam Tribe.

Steve Robinson, former policy analyst, Northwest Indian Fisheries Commission, Seattle.

Randy Scott (Quinalt), council member, City of Ocean Shores.

Theresa Sheldon (Tulalip), council member, Tulalip Tribes.

Robin Little Wing Sigo (Suquamish), council member, Suquamish Tribe.

Kelly Sullivan (Port Gamble S'Klallam), executive director, Port Gamble S'Klallam Tribe.

Victoria Tom (Port Gamble S'Klallam), fisheries department, Port Gamble S'Klallam Tribe.

Molly Neely-Walker (Samish), retired public school teacher, Poulsbo.

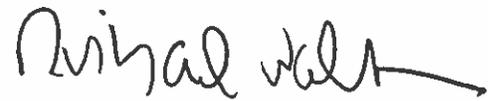

Marilyn Wandrey (Suquamish), former program administrator, Region 5, Washington State Indian Policy.

Lisa Weber, former council member, Samish Indian Nation;

Candace Wellman, independent historian and writer, former research assistant at the Washington State Archives, Bellingham.

I thank you for your consideration and look forward to appearing before the committee on this matter.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Richard Walker". The signature is written in a cursive style with a long horizontal stroke at the end.

Richard Walker
P.O. Box 1974
Poulsbo, WA. 98370
richardmollywalker@gmail.com
360-779-2903 (home)
360-813-2916 (cell)

From: Richard Walker
To: DNR RE BOGN
Subject: RE: Sq'emenen Bay proposal
Date: Friday, October 23, 2015 7:26:33 AM

Oct. 23, 2015

State of Washington Committee on Geographic Names
P.O. Box 47030
Olympia, WA 98504-7030
360-902-1280

RE: Sq'emenen Bay

Honorable committee members,

I am editor of a group of newspapers in Kitsap County and a perfect storm of deadlines, special sections and ongoing coverage of a controversial story has swept away my plans of attending today's committee meeting. I apologize that I am not able to attend. I am available to participate telephonically or by Skype if that is possible.

I thank the committee for considering this proposal – endorsed by 29 people, of whom at least 13 have ancestral ties to Shaw Island; and supported in writing by eight other parties or individuals, including state Rep. Jeff Morris (whose grandfather was Samish), a former Friday Harbor Town Council member, and the president of the Seneca Nation. I also thank current residents of Shaw Island for engaging in discussion about the name change.

I think there is general agreement that the name needs to be changed from Squaw Island. Here's why I believe Sq'emenen (pronounced ske-me-nen, with short e's) is an appropriate name.

1. Sq'emenen is the Lummi name for Shaw Island, a reference to a type of fish harvested there. (Tsilixw Bill James, hereditary chief and culture bearer, Lummi Nation).
2. 2. The bay is a historical and current reefnet fishing site. Reefnet fishing was developed by the ancestors of the Lummi people.
3. 3. A 2010 cultural survey by the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife (http://wdfw.wa.gov/licensing/sepa/2010/10012_cultural.pdf) state that the islands' First Peoples established place names indicating the resources found there. According to the report, "... in the Lummi language Waldron Island was 'the place of deepwater fishing.' Patos was 'where the native oyster is found.' Sucia was 'mussels on the rocks.' Matia was punnawhing, an edible bulb."

As stated earlier, Sq'emenen is the Lummi name for Shaw Island, a reference to a type of fish harvested there.

4. 4. In her 1999 essay, "Reclaiming 'squaw' in the name of the ancestors," anthropologist Dr. Margaret Bruchac, Abenaki, wrote, "Every river, mountain, valley, and plain, every plant and every animal, every living being on this continent was known to the original inhabitants ... If the real goal is [to] preserve that history, then the solution is easy – encourage the local Native Nations to rename these places in their original languages ..." (my emphasis added)

She added, "I feel we would do best to argue for revision of place names in the name of historical accuracy, tribal sovereignty, and basic respect, since 'squaw' is neither historically nor linguistically appropriate as a universal term to apply to Native women ... We can claim the opportunity to recover original indigenous place names reinforce respect for local indigenous histories, and support Native language reclamation efforts." (my emphasis added)

She concluded, "When I hear all the words of our old languages spoken by Native peoples, in their proper contexts, I hear the voices of the ancestors."

Sq'emenen, the Lummi name for Shaw Island, is an original indigenous place name, reinforces respect for local indigenous histories, and supports Native language reclamation efforts.

I thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Richard Walker
19974 Stavanger Place NE
P.O. Box 1974 (mailing address)
Poulsbo, WA. 98370
360-779-2903 (home)
360-813-2916 (cell)

MAKI, CALEB (DNR)

From: Richard Walker <richardmollywalker@gmail.com>
Sent: Thursday, June 23, 2016 5:05 PM
To: MAKI, CALEB (DNR)
Subject: List of supporters for Sq'ememen Bay

Hello, Caleb,
Regarding the Sq'ememen Bay proposal:

I notice that you listed, for the committee's information, the list of supportive, neutral and opposing letters received.

Your list does not note, however, that the proposal has the endorsement of 30 individuals, several of them Coast Salish and with family ties to the San Juan Islands.

I hope that you can make their endorsements clear to the committee.

I believe you will also be receiving a letter soon from a Lummi educator regarding the meaning and importance of "Sq'ememen." It is a name by which the Lummi have always known, and will continue to know, Shaw Island, no matter the decision of the committee. To quote Lummi hereditary chief Bill Tsilixw James (Sept. 29, 2014): "We still know who we are and where we come from, our ancestors are still there. We are still a living people. We still use all their ancestral place names."

The following individuals endorsed, and are listed on, the Sq'ememen Bay proposal:

Jaadkaagwia Allen (Tsimshian), former Indian Child Welfare coordinator, Jamestown S'Klallam Tribe.

Sophie Bailey (Swinomish), member, Swinomish Tribe Senate.

Marilee Bittner-Fawcett (Tsimshian), former public information officer, South Puget Intertribal Planning Agency.

Gil Calac (Paiute), Vietnam War veterans advocate, Yakama Nation.

Laurie Cepa (She-Kla-Malt descendant), real estate broker, Everett.

Leonard Dixon (Lummi), owner, Coast Salish Remediation Services.

Leslie Eastwood (Samish), general manager, Samish Indian Nation.

April James (Swinomish), shelter manager, Swinomish Tribe.

Cheryl Johnson (Lummi), Lummi Indian Business Council.

Donna Jones (Port Gamble S'Klallam), retired chemical dependency professional, Kingston.

Carrie Kaeding (Samish), career coach, Marysville.

Vernell Lane (Lummi), fundraising and strategic planning consultant, Lummi.

Laurie Mattson, former executive director, Port Gamble S'Klallam Tribe, Brinnon.

Deborah Parker (She-Kla-Malt descendant), former council member, Tulalip Tribes.

Patricia Paul (Inupiaq), lawyer and appellate court judge, Swinomish.

Mary Ann Peltier (Chippewa/Assiniboine Sioux), co-chairwoman, Urban Native Education Alliance, Seattle.

Frank Penter (Samish), retired U.S. Navy chief petty officer, Gold Bar.

Joseph Price (Port Gamble S'Klallam/Navajo), youth services specialist, Port Gamble S'Klallam Tribe.

Laura Price (Port Gamble S'Klallam), Healing of the Canoe program coordinator, Port Gamble S'Klallam Tribe.

Steve Robinson, former policy analyst, Northwest Indian Fisheries Commission, Seattle.

Randy Scott (Quinault), council member, City of Ocean Shores.

Theresa Sheldon (Tulalip), council member, Tulalip Tribes.

Robin Little Wing Sigo (Suquamish), council member, Suquamish Tribe.

Kelly Sullivan (Port Gamble S'Klallam), executive director, Port Gamble S'Klallam Tribe.

Victoria Tom (Port Gamble S'Klallam), fisheries department, Port Gamble S'Klallam Tribe.

Molly Neely-Walker (Samish), retired public school teacher, Poulsbo.

Marilyn Wandrey (Suquamish), former program administrator, Region 5, Washington State Indian Policy.

Lisa Weber, former council member, Samish Indian Nation;

Candace Wellman, independent historian and writer, former research assistant at the Washington State Archives, Bellingham.

--

Richard Walker
Correspondent, IndianCountryTodayMediaNetwork.com
360-813-2916
richardmollywalker@gmail.com

Comments

Received

San Juan County Council

350 Court Street No. 1
Friday Harbor, WA
98250
(360) 378 - 2898

District 1, Bob Jarman
District 2, Rick Hughes
District 3, Jamie Stephens

RECEIVED BY:
DEPT OF NATURAL RESOURCES

MAR 21 2016

ENGINEERING DIVISION
OLYMPIA 09504-7030

March 16, 2016

Caleb A. Maki
Executive Secretary – Washington State Committee on Geographic Names
Washington State Department of Natural Resources (DNR)
PO Box 47030
Olympia, WA 98504-7030

Re: Renaming of Squaw Bay and Hicks Bay in San Juan County

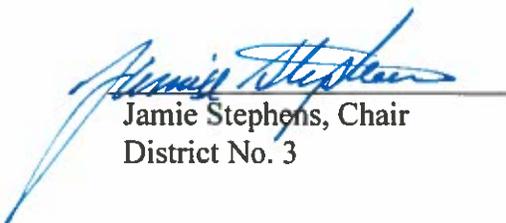

Dear Mr. Maki,

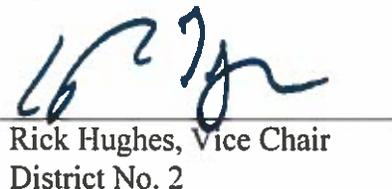

We, the San Juan County Council, support the renaming of Squaw Bay to Sq'emenen Bay and Hicks Bay to Hix Bay.

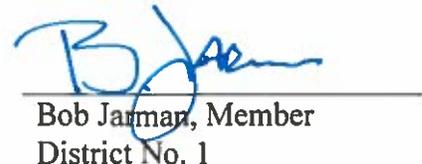

Sq'emenen, the Lummi name for Shaw Island, reinforces respect for local indigenous histories and is most appropriate. We also support the correction to the spelling of Hix Bay, named for the Hix family who were early Washington settlers.

Sincerely,

COUNTY COUNCIL
SAN JUAN COUNTY, WASHINGTON

Jamie Stephens, Chair
District No. 3

Rick Hughes, Vice Chair
District No. 2

Bob Jarman, Member
District No. 1

San Juan County Council

350 Court Street No. 1
Friday Harbor, WA
98250
(360) 378 - 2898

District 1, Bob Jarman
District 2, Rick Hughes
District 3, Jamie Stephens

RECEIVED BY:
DEPT OF NATURAL RESOURCI

MAY 12 2016

ENGINEERING DIVISION
OLYMPIA 09504-7030

May 10, 2016

Caleb A. Maki
Executive Secretary – Washington State Committee on Geographic Names
Washington State Department of Natural Resources (DNR)
PO Box 47030
Olympia, WA 98504-7030

Re: Change of support for renaming Squaw Bay; affirming spelling change for “Hicks”
Bay in San Juan County

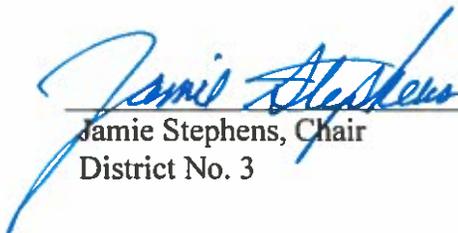

Dear Mr. Maki,

After receiving additional comments from citizens, the San Juan County Council wishes to withdraw its earlier support for renaming of Squaw Bay to Sq’emenen Bay. We are in favor of changing the name of Squaw Bay, but we do not have a preference or take a position for a different name.

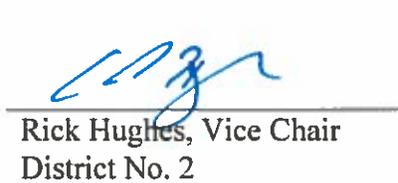

We continue to support the correction for the spelling of Hix Bay (not Hicks Bay), named for the Hix family who were early Washington settlers.

Sincerely,

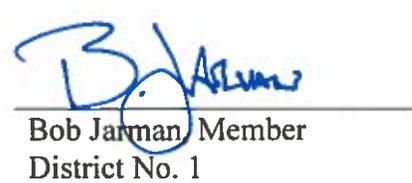

COUNTY COUNCIL
SAN JUAN COUNTY, WASHINGTON

Jamie Stephens, Chair
District No. 3

Rick Hughes, Vice Chair
District No. 2

Bob Jarman, Member
District No. 1

MAKI, CALEB (DNR)

From: Sean Crane <sean.crane@sni.org>
Sent: Tuesday, October 13, 2015 3:13 PM
To: DNR RE BOGN
Cc: Maurice John
Subject: Sq'ememen Bay Name Change

Submitted on behalf of Seneca Nation of Indians President Maurice A. John, Sr., who wishes to offer the following public comment on a geographic name proposal for a San Juan County Name Change:

October 13, 2015

Washington State Committee on Geographic Names
Post Office Box 47030
Olympia, Washington 98504-7030

RE: Name Change to Sq'ememen Bay

Dear Committee Members:

On behalf of the leadership of the Seneca Nation, I would like to voice our support for the proposal to change the name of the bay on Shaw Island to "Sq'ememen Bay." Sq'ememen is the traditional Lummi name for Shaw Island. Recently, the Seneca people succeeded in our quest to have an offensive name dropped as the place name for an island located in the Niagara River outside Buffalo, New York. The new name for this island is "Ga'nigö:i:yoh" in Seneca which translates to "Unity Island" in English. Our people were encouraged by this name change and we have vowed to ask other communities to change their use of disparaging names that stereotype or are derogatory toward native peoples. We believe that people everywhere deserve dignity and respect—whether on an island in the Niagara River in Western New York or in a bay in the San Juan Islands off the coast of Washington. Thank you for your consideration.

Nya:wëh (Thank you),

Maurice A. John, Sr.
President

Sean Crane
Assistant to the President
sean.crane@sni.org
(716) 945-1790 ext. 3077

This email and any files transmitted with it are confidential and intended solely for the use of the individual or entity to whom they are addressed. If you have received this email in error please notify the system manager. Please notify the sender immediately by e-mail if you have received this e-mail by mistake. Please do not disseminate, distribute or copy this e-mail. Please notify the sender immediately by e-mail if you have received this e-mail by mistake. Please do not disseminate, distribute or copy this e-mail. If you are not the named addressee you should not disseminate, distribute or copy this e-mail. Please notify the sender immediately by e-mail if you have received this e-mail by mistake. Please do not disseminate, distribute or copy this e-mail. If you are not the named addressee you should not disseminate, distribute or copy this e-mail.

0000 0000

OCT 19 2015

ENGINEERING DIVISION
OLYMPIA 09504-7030

Seneca Nation of Indians

President - Maurice John, Sr.
Clerk - Pauline John

90 OHI:YO' WAY
ALLEGANY TERRITORY
SENECA NATION
SALAMANCA 14779

Tel. (716) 945-1790
FAX (716) 945-0150

Treasurer - Todd Gates

12837 ROUTE 438
CATTARAUGUS TERRITORY
SENECA NATION
IRVING 14081

Tel. (716) 532-4900
FAX (716) 532-9132

October 13, 2015

Washington State Committee on Geographic Names
Post Office Box 47030
Olympia, Washington 98504-7030

RE: Name Change to Sq'emenen Bay

Dear Committee Members:

On behalf of the leadership of the Seneca Nation, I would like to voice our support for the proposal to change the name of the bay on Shaw Island to "Sq'emenen Bay." Sq'emenen is the traditional Lummi name for Shaw Island. Recently, the Seneca people succeeded in our quest to have an offensive name dropped as the place name for an island located in the Niagara River outside Buffalo, New York. The new name for this island is "Ga'nigö:i:yoh" in Seneca which translates to "Unity Island" in English. Our people were encouraged by this name change and we have vowed to ask other communities to change their use of disparaging names that stereotype or are derogatory toward native peoples. We believe that people everywhere deserve dignity and respect—whether on an island in the Niagara River in Western New York or in a bay in the San Juan Islands off the coast of Washington. Thank you for your consideration.

Nya:wëh (Thank you),

Maurice A. John, Sr.
President

CC: Tim Ballew, Chairman
Lummi Nation
2665 Kwina Road
Bellingham, Washington 986226-9221

Richard A. Walker, Name-Change Proponent
Post Office Box 1974
Poulsbo, Washington 98370

MAKI, CALEB (DNR)

From: matt remle <mcremle@hotmail.com>
Sent: Wednesday, August 26, 2015 8:36 AM
To: DNR RE BOGN; council@sanjuanco.com
Subject: Change the name of Squaw Bay to Sq'ememen Bay

Hello

I just wanted to add my voice of support to change the name of Squaw Bay to Sq'ememen Bay. As you most likely are aware, Squaw is a derogatory term for Native American women. According to Chief Tsilixw James, Sq'ememen is the Lummi name for Shaw Island. This would be a great way to end a derogatory term and replace it with one that honors the original name of the area.

Thank you for your time

Matt Remle

MAKI, CALEB (DNR)

From: Carol Poliak <cap823@hotmail.com>
Sent: Monday, September 07, 2015 4:53 PM
To: DNR RE BOGN
Cc: marapoliak@gmail.com
Subject: Shaw Island name change

I wish to speak in strong support of a name change which is coming before you for initial consideration on October 23. I am a resident of Shaw Island and have long felt that the name Squaw Bay is a real embarrassment and should be changed. I am delighted that this is moving forward.

I understand that there is much controversy about the true meaning of the word "Squaw", and its derivation. I do not believe that we need to (or even can) get to the bottom of the derivation of the word "Squaw"; we only need to know that it is considered to be derogatory by many Native Americans. If the very people who are being referred to as "Squaw" find that term offensive, then it needs to change. At the very best (with many worse possible derivations), it may be an Algonquian word for "woman". This is certainly not a local term.

Exactly what the name is changed to is not as important an issue as that the name be changed to a non-offensive word.

That being said, I see the proposed name of Sq'emenem to be eminently pronounceable. Try saying it out loud. I am certainly willing to be trained to say it correctly. I think it would be a wonderful educational opportunity for the school kids and all the rest of us to learn more about the Salish language, history on Shaw prior to non-native settlement, etcetera. I strongly hope that we as an island can embrace this opportunity.

Please let me know what I can do to further support this name change.

Thank you so much.

Sincerely,

Carol Poliak

MAKI, CALEB (DNR)

From: Mara Poliak <marapoliak@gmail.com>
Sent: Thursday, September 10, 2015 5:22 PM
To: DNR RE BOGN
Subject: Squaw Bay, Shaw Island, name change

Hello,

I am writing in support of the name change that is coming up for review on October 23rd. My family has owned property on Shaw Island since before I was born, and I have spent much of my life there. Ever since becoming aware of the derogatory nature of the word Squaw, I have felt very ashamed and upset by Shaw Island's Squaw Bay. If the people who the term refers to find it offensive, that is more than enough reason to change it. There is certainly a precedent of others enacting this same change throughout the United States.

The most pressing issue is to change the name, however I am in support of the proposed change to Sq'ememenem. In the initial proposal, this name was endorsed by many people of Native American heritage, and I would be very pleased if we chose to honor that. Sq'ememenem is also the Lummi name for Shaw Island. If we chose to refer to the Bay by this name, I think it would inspire us to think more about the history of Shaw, and the people who were here before we were.

Thank you for your consideration, I am thrilled that this is moving forward.

Sincerely,
Mara Poliak

--

mountainmountainmountain.tumblr.com

MAKI, CALEB (DNR)

From: Morris, Rep. Jeff <Jeff.Morris@leg.wa.gov>
Sent: Wednesday, September 09, 2015 3:18 PM
To: DNR RE BOGN
Cc: Lytton, Kristine; West, Meagan; O'Farrell, Kim
Subject: Proposal to change the name of Squaw Bay to Sq'ememen Bay

Dear Washington State Committee on Geographic Names,

I fully support The proposal to change the name of Squaw Bay to Sq'ememen Bay -- the Lummi name for Shaw Island. The word "squaw" is widely viewed as being offensive and has no relevance in the San Juan Islands. The name Sq'ememen is a more authentic and appropriate name and honors the Lummi Tribe and the history of Shaw Island and the surrounding San Juan archipelago.

Your consideration is greatly appreciated.

Representative Jeff Morris
40th Legislative District

MAKI, CALEB (DNR)

From: Carole Davis <bbe@rockisland.com>
Sent: Monday, September 14, 2015 12:32 PM
To: DNR RE BOGN
Cc: council@sanjuanco.com
Subject: Renaming Squaw Bay on Shaw Island

It's taken awhile to formulate my thoughts, but I now strongly hope that the Shaw community will support a name change for Squaw Bay.

*Because of the way the proposal was presented to islanders, I admit getting caught up in research to figure out the meaning of the word "squaw"—only to realize, as even the instigators of the proposal conclude, that the derivation of the word is irrelevant. What IS relevant is that at present, the majority of indigenous North Americans consider nearly all uses of the term "squaw" to be a form of ethnic slur.

There is a nationwide movement to change squaw names and six states have passed legislation to require or encourage deleting the word from place names. This proposal for Squaw Bay has not only the support of our representative Jeff Morris, but was co-signed by more than thirty members of the, among others, Samish, Tulalip, S'Klallam, Swinomish and Lummi peoples. This is enough for me!

As to what the new name should be, I have no strong feelings. I like the name Reefnetter Bay. But I really think that having a native American name would be wonderful. We have no such names on Shaw honoring the first users of our island and a Native American name seems much more relevant than naming our island after a naval officer who never even set foot in the San Juans.

I personally do not find the name Sq'ememem to be difficult to pronounce, although I will probably be challenged by a "full glottal stop." But wouldn't it be fun to have a workshop on glottal stops so that those locals in the know could feel superior? As for the rest of the world, they could as easily learn to say Skwem-en-em as Puyallip, Deschutes, Kalalach, Ohanapecosh, Pend Oreille and Suitttle.

I would also support the Lummi word for the bark used for reefnet fishing (Shwalu - not sure how it is spelled). Or I wonder if anyone knows the indigenous name of the Native American woman who once lived near the bay.

In conclusion, I don't think that the new name is as important as our resolve to change it. Like the confederate flag in the South, the name Squaw Bay may be part of our history, but I see no valid reason to continue pouring salt on old and current wounds.

Sincerely,

Carole Davis long time Shaw Island resident

MAKI, CALEB (DNR)

From: Liz Illg <lizillg@rockisland.com>
Sent: Tuesday, September 15, 2015 10:38 AM
To: DNR RE BOGN
Subject: Sq'emenen Bay, San Juan County

September 15, 2015

Washington State Committee on Geographic Names
PO Box 47030
Olympia, WA 98504-7030

Dear Committee Members:

I support the name change proposed by Richard Walker for Squaw Bay on Shaw Island to Sq'emenen Bay. As a lifelong islands visitor and property owner on San Juan Island since 1995 I embrace the opportunity to endorse this change for two major reasons.

First, the term "squaw" is colloquially offensive and is being removed from geographical sites around the country. Second, Sq'emenen is the traditional name for Shaw Island and is in current use by local tribes.

I urge your consideration to bring this place name into congruence with contemporary values regarding women and language, and to honor the historical significance of a name used by indigenous groups for untold millennia.

Sincerely,

Liz Illg
PO Box 1258
Friday Harbor, WA 98250

MAKI, CALEB (DNR)

From: Jon Shannon <jon.r.shannon@gmail.com>
Sent: Friday, October 09, 2015 8:10 PM
To: DNR RE BOGN
Subject: Squaw Bay

Dear sir: I would like the name Squaw Bay to remain the official place name of the Bay located on the southeast shore of Shaw Island. Naming a place something offensive to someone somewhere is not the same as calling someone who might be offended by that name.

Thank you.

Jon Shannon

Shaw Island resident for 16 years.

MAKI, CALEB (DNR)

From: Lynn <bahrych@rockisland.com>
Sent: Tuesday, March 01, 2016 5:20 PM
To: DNR RE BOGN
Cc: Alex MacLeod
Subject: Comment on Renaming Squaw Bay at Shaw Island

I definitely support renaming the bay Reef Net Bay.

I am opposed to Sq'emenen because it is difficult to pronounce, hard to spell and write correctly, and has no association or historic significance to me as a resident of Shaw for over 30 years. If there were tribal residents on Shaw today, it might be a different matter. As it is, I don't think it would be especially meaningful for the current residents, at least not those I have spoken with about it.

Please consider renaming the bay "Reef Net Bay."

Thank you,

Lynn Bahrych
80 Old Macdonald Lane
Shaw Island WA 98286

MAKI, CALEB (DNR)

From: Careyjrs@aol.com
Sent: Friday, October 02, 2015 11:25 AM
To: DNR RE BOGN
Subject: (no subject)

I strongly disagree with Mr Morris's recommendation to change the name of Squaw Bay. I would ask that the committee not take the "politically correct" approach to this issue. Please research the origin of the name. Do not poll the white citizens of the community. Speak with the tribal elders and historians. Review the extensive research others have done regarding the local native american language, and the meaning of the word in their culture. Native americans have not put a negative connotation on the word, its the white man. If you want to honor native american culture leave it alone. Research has shown that the word simply means women or young girl. What the heck is wrong with that. Please do your research and not fold to the "political correctness" campaign.

Jeff Carey
Careyjrs@aol.com

MAKI, CALEB (DNR)

From: Paul D. Carey <pcarey125@gmail.com>
Sent: Wednesday, September 30, 2015 6:48 PM
To: DNR RE BOGN
Subject: Squaw Bay

Seems to me that the movement to rename Squaw bay to a barely pronounceable alternative is laughable on its face, not to mention confusing, a waste of time and money (for new signage, new maps, etc, etc), and would not (according to some notable authorities) even be politically correct.

Paul Carey

MAKI, CALEB (DNR)

From: inga horton <ingahorton@sbcglobal.net>
Sent: Tuesday, September 29, 2015 5:18 PM
To: DNR RE BOGN
Subject: Squaw Bay

I think that it is somewhat perilous to change an accepted name, the history of the name will be lost forever. Squaw Bay just rolls of the tongue, Reefnet Bay does not! I am hoping that Squaw Bay will be retained forever. Inga Horton, Horton's Hook.

OCT 12 2015

ENGINEERING DIVISION
OLYMPIA 09504-7030

SHAW ISLAND LIBRARY & HISTORICAL SOCIETY
BOX 844 SHAW ISLAND, WASHINGTON 98286

Oct. 9, 2015

Washington State Committee on Geographic Names
Box 47030
Olympia, WA 98504-7030

Re: Proposed name change: Squaw Bay, Shaw Island

Dear Committee Members:

Residents of Shaw Island learned about a month ago that an application had been filed to change the name of Squaw Bay, on the south shore of the island, to Sq'ememenem Bay. The application had been filed by individuals with no connection to Shaw, nor had any islanders been contacted before or after the application had been filed.

As chair of the Board of Trustees of the Shaw Island Library & Historical Society, I initiated a series of discussions among islanders about the proposal. That included a meeting Sept. 19 attended by 23 island residents and email responses from nearly 30 others. This is on an island with a full-time population of about 200. You can find the background on these discussions at www.shawislandlibrary.org/renaming-squaw-bay-discussion

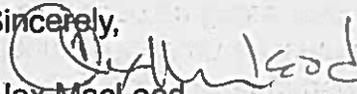

As you might expect, there wasn't unanimous agreement in support of the proposed change. Some (more than one-quarter) feel the name, which has been on the bay (and adjacent road) for more than 100 years, is part of the island's history and local usage and should remain unchanged. Some question the validity of the assertion that the word is offensive to most Native Americans. Some simply object to outsiders seeking to impose their judgment on Shaw.

The majority viewpoint, however, is as follows:

- That we indicate support for changing the name.
- That we do not support the proposed change to Sq'ememenem Bay.
- That we work with the applicant to try to reach agreement on a replacement name that more closely reflects both the native and non-native history of that particular bay.

With this in mind, it would seem appropriate for the committee to defer until its May meeting any action on the proposal.

Sincerely,

Alex MacLeod

MAKI, CALEB (DNR)

From: Alex MacLeod <wuzeditor@rockisland.com>
Sent: Tuesday, October 13, 2015 7:53 AM
To: Richard Walker
Cc: DNR RE BOGN
Subject: Re: About your letter to the state committee

Richard:

Since your note is copied to the committee, I feel it needs a response.

The Shaw community, as our letter makes clear, supports your application to change the name of the bay. It says nothing about your beliefs about the derivation or true meaning of the word "squaw." In your response, you are arguing a point that, as our position makes clear, is not at issue.

Further, in our letter to the committee we have reached out to you and your supporters to work together to find a name we all find appropriate. Your response raises questions about whether you are willing to participate in such an effort, and may be reason enough for the committee to reject, rather than simply defer, your application. Since we all wish to change the name of the bay, that would be a shame, but there should be some indication that a meaningful collaboration is possible for the committee to defer rather than reject your application. Your note and the fact that you made this proposal without any contact with the Shaw community, is not a positive sign.

Respectfully,

Alex MacLeod

On Oct 12, 2015, at 7:46 PM, Richard Walker <richardmollywalker@gmail.com> wrote:

Alex,

While I have not resided on Shaw Island, I have had a home on San Juan Island -- like Shaw, a part of the San Juan archipelago -- since 1999. My wife, who is a citizen of the Samish Indian Nation, comes from an islands lineage that dates back thousands of years. Our home is located due south of proposed Sq'emenen Bay, near a Samish village site, at Cape San Juan.

Contrary to your letter, I don't believe the word "squaw" is a racialized epithet. I believe it is a misappropriated word that has been misused as a racialized epithet.

Anthropologist Dr. Margaret Bruchac, Abenaki, whose 1999 essay has been quoted by opponents of the name "Sq'ememen Bay" ("Reclaiming 'squaw' in the name of the ancestors"), also wrote in her essay, "During the late 19th century, Algonkian words that had come into common usage among Americans were carried west, by French fur traders and other whites ... During westward expansion, 'chief,' 'brave,' 'papoose,' and 'squaw' took on negative connotations as they were increasingly used as generic descriptions and epithets. The misuse of 'squaw' was further spread by early 20th century movies and children's books that depicted stereotypes and 'savage Indians.' "

Of place names, she wrote in the same essay, "Every river, mountain, valley, and plain, every plant and every animal, every living being on this continent was known to the original inhabitants ... If the real goal is [to] preserve that history, then the solution is easy -- encourage the local Native Nations to rename these places in their original languages ..."

She added, "I feel we would do best to argue for revision of place names in the name of historical accuracy, tribal sovereignty, and basic respect, since 'squaw' is neither historically nor linguistically appropriate as a universal term to apply to Native women ... We can claim the opportunity to recover original indigenous place names, reinforce respect for local indigenous histories, and support Native language reclamation efforts."

She concluded, "When I hear all the words of our old languages spoken by Native peoples, in their proper contexts, I hear the voices of the ancestors. ... In their honor I demand that our language, our women, and our history, be treated with respect."

Sq'ememen, the Lummi name for Shaw Island, is an original indigenous place name, reinforces respect for local indigenous histories, and supports Native language reclamation efforts.

Richard Walker
Poulsbo, Washington

September 14, 2015

To: WA State Committee on Geographic Names
Re: Squaw Bay / Sq'ememen Bay (San Juan County)

I am a professional anthropologist specializing in traditional societies of Native North America, and served on the U of Washington faculty for 33 years (I am now retired). I have been a part-time resident of Shaw Island since 1981.

I strongly support changing the name to something other than Squaw Bay. The term "squaw" is widely perceived as derogatory, offensive, and a relic of a racist and ethnocentric past that we should not memorialize on our maps, street names, and in daily speech. That does not mean that most people who use the term mean to be derogatory; I think most are just unaware of how offensive it is to many (perhaps most) Native Americans.

As the proposal from Richard Walker et al. notes, there are various possible derivations of "squaw," but whatever its derivation, "squaw" is an offensive term. The etymology (historical derivation) of the word might be interesting or relevant to some, but it can hardly be crucial. The term is derogatory because of a long history of its use in denigrating Indian women, as detailed in various sources. If "squaw" originally meant "beautiful woman" or "wife" in some Native American language, it would not change this fact. To argue otherwise is like claiming that the "N word" is not derogatory because it's derived from the Spanish or Portuguese word for "black", or (to use a somewhat less loaded analogy) that "pickaninny" is not derogatory because it derives from "pequeninho" (Portuguese for "small child"). Language changes over time in a social context, and what a word meant a century or even a couple of decades ago is no sure guide to its current meaning.

I do not have a strong opinion about the suitability of the proposed new name, "Sq'ememen Bay" (though I don't agree with comments I have heard that it's "impossible" to pronounce – following the initial consonants, just say "M-n-M"). I do agree with concerns raised by some Shaw Islanders that a name that might be mispronounced by some, and difficult to spell, could create problems in emergency situations (9-1-1 calls, for example). That said, it strikes me that there are actually very few Indian names in the San Juans, and virtually none on Shaw, whereas lots of places are named after military figures, many of whom never even visited the islands (including John Shaw, naval officer in the War of 1812). Thus, I would very much like to see a local Coast Salish name chosen. Given the proximity of the bay in question to the main reef-netting site on Shaw, the Straits Salish term for inner willow bark employed in reef-nets, also used as a metonym for the whole reef-net gear, might be ideal (two syllables, easy to pronounce; phonetically anglicized to Shwalu or the like).^{*} Whatever name is adopted, there is no good reason for keeping an offensive, implicitly racist name for one of the most beautiful bays in the San Juan Islands.

Eric Alden Smith
PO Box 815
Shaw Island, WA 98286
Professor Emeritus
Dept. of Anthropology, Univ. of Washington

^{*}Ciensi. Andrew and Bill White, "Sxwalu (Reefnet) Fishing", available at www.esquimaltnation.ca/resources/Reef%20nets.pdf

Claxton, Nick (2003) "The Douglas Treaty and WSÁNEC traditional fisheries: A model for Saanich Peoples Governance," unpublished MA thesis, U of Victoria.

March 17, 2016

Caleb A. Maki
Photogrammetrist 3 – Engineering Division
Executive Secretary – Washington State Committee on Geographic Names
Washington State Department of Natural Resources (DNR)

Dear Mr. Maki:

I am responding to your request to the San Juan Historical Society & Museum regarding the proposals to make official the names of Hix Bay and Sq'emenen Bay located at Shaw Island in San Juan County.

The issue was discussed at a meeting of the Board of Trustees on March 8, 2016. The information you provided was reviewed and discussion was held concerning all aspects of the proposals.

The opinion of the Board is as follows:

The name change to Hix Bay was favored.
The name change to Sq'emenen Bay should be open to compromise between all relevant parties.

Regards,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read 'Kevin Loftus'.

Kevin Loftus
Executive Director

WASHINGTON STATE COMMITTEE ON GEOGRAPHIC NAMES

P.O.Box 47030, Olympia WA 98504-7030

Fax (360) 902-1778

Please comment on the following name proposal. Attached you'll find the information regarding this proposed name that will assist you in your comments. If needed, attach additional sheets or information. Note: The proposed name is not yet official and should not be published on any official documents.

Proposed Name: Sq'emenen Bay

County: San Juan

I'm in favor of this proposal I oppose this proposal I have no objection to proposal

Comments, Please explain: _____

Please sign and return the completed comment sheet to the Washington State Committee on Geographic Names by May 10, 2016.

Tara Wallace
Signature

TARA WALLACE
Printed Name

2/22/16
Date

TARA.WALLACE@NOAA.GOV
Email

(301) 713-2737 x123
Telephone Number

Representing: NOAA, MARINE CHART DIVISION

It is important to make copies and keep originals of referenced material, historical documentation, articles, and other information relating to the above names.

MAKI, CALEB (DNR)

From: MAKI, CALEB (DNR)
Sent: Friday, May 20, 2016 11:15 AM
To: wuzeditor@rockisland.com; richardmollywalker@gmail.com
Subject: Sq'emenen Bay and Reef Net Bay

Hello,

At yesterday's meeting, the Committee on Geographic Names voted to defer both of the proposed names to replace Squaw Bay. The Committee stated during their discussion that they would like to see community support for a unified proposal.

Both of these proposals will be on the agenda for our October meeting, and I would encourage both of the proponents to see if they could reach a compromise on a replacement name. The Committee was not comfortable choosing one name over the other, as there appears to be division among residents as to what the new name should be.

If any correspondence takes place between the proponents, please send me a copy. You can also view the meeting video and audio here at TVW:

<http://www.tvw.org/watch/?eventID=2016051077>

Let me know if you have any questions, and I look forward to receiving any additional materials.

Caleb A. Maki

Photogrammetrist 3 – Engineering Division

Executive Secretary – Washington State Committee on Geographic Names

Washington State Department of Natural Resources (DNR)

Phone: 360-902-1280 / Fax: 360-902-1778

caleb.maki@dnr.wa.gov

www.dnr.wa.gov

 Feel free to print, paper is a renewable resource

MAKI, CALEB (DNR)

From: Alex MacLeod <wuzeditor@rockisland.com>
Sent: Saturday, May 21, 2016 9:50 AM
To: MAKI, CALEB (DNR)
Cc: richardmollywalker@gmail.com
Subject: Re: Sq'emenen Bay and Reef Net Bay

Caleb:

Thank you for the update. Those of us on Shaw appreciate the committee tabling the proposed change to Sq'emenem until its October meeting.

Having listened to the committee's discussion, there is a misapprehension of the position of the Shaw Island residents. Our position, which we have tried to state clearly on more than one occasion, is as follows:

1. We support dropping the name Squaw Bay.
2. We oppose the proposed change to Sq'emenem Bay.
3. We support changing the name to Reef Net Bay. The bay in question has been the staging area for both Native and later non-native reef need fishing along the south shore of Shaw Island. A point on the bay already carries the name Reef Net Point and is further designated as such by trail markings of the San Juan County Parks Department.

Once the broad consensus of Shaw residents expressed its opposition to the proposed change to Sq'emenem Bay, made by individuals with no connection to the island, we wrote the the Sq'emenem Bay proponent to see he was open to working with the Shaw residents to find an acceptable compromise. He was not. If he has changed his position on compromise, we would be willing to consider one.

I would like to correct a factual misstatement made during the committee's discussion by member Allyson Brooks. In making the motion to approve the Sq'emenem Bay proposal , Ms. Brooks said the Shaw Island (Library &) Historical Society supported the change to Sq'emenem Bay. On the contrary, our organization, after having held community discussions in person and online, supported dropping the name Squaw Bay but opposed the change to Sq'emenem Bay. We have proposed an alternative with local historical roots, native and non-native: Reef Net Bay.

We understand that this communication is a public record and ask that it be made part of the committee's record of the Sq'emenem Bay/Reef Net Bay issue.

Alex MacLeod
President, Board of Trustees
Shaw Island Library & Historical Society
Shaw Island. WA 98286

cc: Richard Walker

On May 20, 2016, at 11:15 AM, MAKI, CALEB (DNR) <CALEB.MAKI@dnr.wa.gov> wrote:

Hello,

MAKI, CALEB (DNR)

From: Richard Walker <richardmollywalker@gmail.com>
Sent: Thursday, May 26, 2016 8:58 PM
To: Alex MacLeod
Cc: MAKI, CALEB (DNR)
Subject: Sq'emenen Bay

May 26, 2016

Alex MacLeod

President, Board of Trustees

Shaw Island Library & Historical Society

Shaw Island, WA 98286

Dear Alex,

I appreciate your membership's support for changing the name of Squaw Bay.

I read your latest letter to the Committee on Geographic Names. Some correction and/or clarification is necessary.

First, to write that I have not been open to compromise is not accurate. I was not able to attend your first meeting on this issue. But I told Stephanie Buffum-Field, a Shaw Island resident and executive director of the Friends of the San Juans, that I had no problem with the name "Reef Net Bay" but added that the Lummi Nation should be consulted on the matter, because Shaw Island is part of the Lummi Nation's historical territory. My understanding is she was going to write a letter expressing our views on the matter.

Second, although I was not able to attend your society's meeting, I did write a letter to the community, dated Sept. 19, 2015, which you posted on your website, in which I wrote that if I could attend, "I would share with Shaw residents that I am glad they are engaged in dialogue on this issue. That is a good thing. I believe we share an interest in seeing the history of Shaw and the San Juan Islands accurately presented, and that we all believe that names are important in the telling of that history."

I also wrote:

"Sq'emenen is a historical place name. According to Lummi Nation hereditary chief Bill (Tsilixw) James, a respected teacher and culture-bearer, the Lummi name for Shaw Island is Sq'emenen. It is the name by which the First People of the San Juan Islands have always known the island, and it is the name by which they know it now."

"Sq'emenen helps tell the history of the place. I know the bay is a prominent reef-net site ... The Lummi people developed reefnet fishing. So, Sq'emenen represents the original name of Shaw Island, where people use a fishing method developed by the region's First Peoples."

"The Lummi people were not simply seasonal occupants of the island. Their point of origin is Henry Island. They share a common ancestor with the Saanich, Samish, and Songhees, and for thousands of years, they all maintained and harvested resources on the islands year-round. All of the islands were their home. Shaw Island was as much a part of their home as any other island within their historical territory."

"I am not Coast Salish, my wife is, and I do not speak for the Coast Salish nations of the region. But I do know that the Lummi Nation and other Coast Salish nations have treaty rights and obligations within their historical territory, among them co-managing the state's fisheries for the benefit of all people, Native and non-Native. So, their relationship to Shaw and the other San Juan Islands continues today."

Third, it is incorrect to say "Sq'emenen" is proposed by "individuals with no connection to the island ...". The Lummi, Samish and other Coast Salish peoples originated in the San Juan Islands, including Shaw Island, which they to this day know as "Sq'emenen." They have certain rights on the island and in its waters, reserved by the Treaty of Point Elliott of 1855. As you know, Article VI of the U.S. Constitution states that treaties are "the supreme law of the land."

Of the 29 people who lent their names to the initial petition, a majority have cultural and ancestral ties to the islands. My wife, who is a citizen of the Samish Indian Nation, comes from an islands lineage that dates back thousands of years. Our home is located due south of proposed Sq'emenen Bay, near a Samish village site, at Cape San Juan.

Fourth, I believe the name "Sq'emenen Bay" would help build bridges of understanding. One of your society members wrote that there is no Native presence on the island; she obviously is not aware of activity going on now in the islands related to culture, history and treaty rights. Another Shaw Island resident, who happens to be a school board member on the island, wrote of retaining the current name, "Naming a place something offensive to someone somewhere is not the same as calling someone who might be offended by that name."

"Sq'emenen" is the Lummi name for Shaw Island and helps tell the story of the place. I am reminded of what Dr. Margaret Bruchac, Abenaki, author of the oft-quoted 1999 essay, "Reclaiming 'squaw' in the name of the ancestors," wrote of the importance of indigenous place names:

"We can claim the opportunity to recover original indigenous place names, reinforce respect for local indigenous histories, and support Native language reclamation efforts ... When I hear all the words of our old languages spoken by Native peoples, in their proper contexts, I hear the voices of the ancestors."

A final point: "Sq'emenen" has been consistently misspelled in your letters on this matter. It is spelled S Q ' E M E N E N. It is pronounced as it looks: ske men en, all short e's.

I understand that this communication is a public record and ask that it be made part of the committee's record.

Sincerely,

Richard Walker

360-813-2916

richardmollywalker@gmail.com

MAKI, CALEB (DNR)

From: Alex MacLeod <wuzeditor@rockisland.com>
Sent: Friday, May 27, 2016 1:31 PM
To: Richard Walker; MAKI, CALEB (DNR)
Subject: Reef Net Bay

Richard:

Thank you for your recent note. As Caleb has made clear, the issue the committee has placed before us is whether we can find common ground on the renaming of Squaw Bay.

We already have cleared the most important hurdle, with Shaw Island residents supporting your proposal to remove the word "squaw" from the name of the bay.

As we said last fall, while we supported that change, we did not support your proposed new name. As we wrote to the committee on Oct. 9, 2015, we instead proposed to work with you to "try to reach agreement on a replacement name that more closely reflects both the native and non-native history" of the bay. When we received no positive response from you, we subsequently made our own proposal to the committee that the bay be renamed "Reef Net Bay."

I was surprised, then, to see in your most recent note that you told Shaw resident Stephanie Buffum-Field in September that you "had no problem with the name "Reef Net Bay." This is the first I've heard of your openness to changing the name to anything other than Sq'emenen Bay. Given that you are the one who began this process, perhaps you would be willing to express your comfort with change to Reef Net Bay to the appropriate individuals in the Lummi Nation and see if they will join you in support of changing the bay's name as we have proposed. With that, I suspect we would be able to speak to the committee with one voice and make its October deliberation rather simple. And with that, the word "squaw" will be gone from the maps and charts of the islands.

Please let me know if you will take that initiative.

Thank you.

Alex

cc: Caleb Maki

SQ'EMENEN BAY - SAN JUAN COUNTY

Bay; 0.25 miles wide, located on the SE side of Shaw Island in the San Juan Islands.

According to the Lummi Nations, the Lummi name for Shaw Island is "Sq'emenen". The proponent would like to replace the current name of Squaw Bay with a name that honors the First People of the San Juan Islands.

