

YOU ARE INVITED!

The Washington State Department of Natural Resources recognizes the special relationship that Native American people have with natural areas and resources, and maintains a deep and abiding respect for sovereignty, traditional knowledge and cultural values.

It is our hope that tribal leaders will join Lummi Nation Chairman Timothy Ballew II and Commissioner of Public Lands Peter Goldmark at the 2015 Tribal Summit to:

- Identify opportunities that result in protection of our resources,
- Discuss sustainable practices, and
- Exchange information of value and import to our shared mission

We look forward to your attendance.
