Ev Henry Point - San Juan County

Peninsula, located on the SW side of Sucia Island in Northern San Juan County, S of Fossil Bay.

Ev. Henry was the Commodore of Rainier Yacht Club in Seattle and upon hearing that Sucia Island was in the process of being bought out and developed by private interests, he formed the "Puget Sound Interclub Council" and together they were able to come up with the funds to purchase and donate the land to the Washington State Parks Department.

There is a monument erected on the island shortly after it became a State Park, referring to the peninsula as "Ev Henry Point".

Jacobson Creek - Thurston County

Stream, 0.25 Miles long. Flows W/SW into unnamed wetlands, just west of Springer Lake in Thurston County.

Proposal to name an unnamed creek in honor of the proponent's parents, Benjamin L. Jacobson (d. 1970) and Mary Jacobson (d. 2003). According to the proponent, the name "Jacobson Creek" has been in use for the feature since at least 1999. Thurston County Conservation District has used the name when referencing the creek, and the proponent has placed a sign identifying the feature as "Jacobson Creek" in 2010.

Tsoo-Yess River - Clallam County

Stream; approx. 14.5 mi. long; heads at 48°13'38"N, 124°29'50"W, flows generally W then NW onto the Makah Indian Reservation to enter the Pacific Ocean at Makah Bay

This proposal is to change the spelling of the name of the Sooes River to Tsoo-Yess River.

The stream is 14.5 miles long, of which approximately five miles is on the Makah Indian Reservation. Although the current spelling was approved by the US BGN in 1905 and has appeared on USGS topographic maps since 1938, the Makah Indian Tribe is requesting that the name be changed to recognize its native orthography.

Tsoo-Yess - Clallam County

Locale; located on the Makah Indian Reservation, 1 mi. E of Anderson Point, 0.5 mi. N of Kallapa River

This proposal is to change the spelling of the name of Sooes, a locale on the Makah Indian Reservation, to Tsoo-Yess.

The proposal is the first of four submitted by the Makah Tribe Habitat Division Manager to change features named "Sooes" to "Tsoo-Yess," in order to more accurately reflect the orthography of the Makah Indian language. The other features are Sooes River, Sooes Peak, and Sooes Beach.

Tsoo-Yess Beach - Clallam County

Beach; located along the Pacific Ocean, on the Makah Indian Reservation, 500 ft. E of Anderson Point, extending on a curve northward to a point 0.4 mi. S of Bahobohosh Point

This proposal is to change the spelling of the name of Sooes Beach on the Makah Indian Reservation to Tsoo-Yess Beach.

The current name first appeared on USGS maps in 1984. The 2011 USGS map also labels road that runs alongside the beach as Sooes Beach Road; however, another road in the vicinity is labeled Tsoo-Yess Beach Road.

Tsoo-Yess Peak - Clallam County

Summit; elevation 1,975 ft., located on the Makah Indian Reservation, 1 mi. SE o

This proposal is to change the spelling of the name of Sooes Peak, a 1,975-foot summit located on the Makah Indian Reservation, to Tsoo-Yess Peak.

The current name was approved by the US BGN, which had been asked to resolve a discrepancy between Federal products; NOAA, the Army Map Service, and the U.S. Forest Service used the name Sooes Mountain while USGS and the Makah Indian Tribe used the name Sooes Peak.f Makah Peaks, 1 mi. E of Grimes Creek
