Organization of Data

This is the 60th edition of the Washington Timber Harvest Report. The data come from information collected by the state's Department of Revenue (DOR) to calculate the Forest Excise Tax.

The report is available in two formats (PDF files and Excel spreadsheets). The content is divided into four statewide summary tables and 32 county tables. Volumes are listed in thousand board feet (mbf), Scribner.

Tables include total harvest volumes by county, species and ownership.

Totals for Washington's timber harvests are also displayed by:

- Eastside and Westside log volume by ownership, county and statewide totals
- Eastside and Westside volume by ownership, species and statewide totals

Even though Douglas-fir is the dominant commercial tree species on both sides of the state, other species make up more than 60 percent of Washington's tree harvest. Ponderosa pine grows in abundance in eastern Washington only, such as this stand in the Okanogan Hills in the north central part of the state. In 2014 more than 50 million board feet of ponderosa pine were harvested, making up 11.4 percent of the total eastern Washington harvest.
