TYPE 5 STREAMS AND SMALL WETLANDS LITERATURE REVIEW

As part of the commitments of the state trust lands Habitat Conservation Plan, we are developing a long-term conservation strategy for headwaters (also known as Type 5) streams and small wetlands. To support the strategy's development, we developed a literature review. This review allows us to evaluate existing research, identify knowledge gaps, and prioritize our research.

This will take you to an external site that is maintained by DNR, but not in a standard DNR template. Visit the Type 5 Streams & Small Wetlands Literature Review.
